Adding a member

How to put a new person on the club's list.

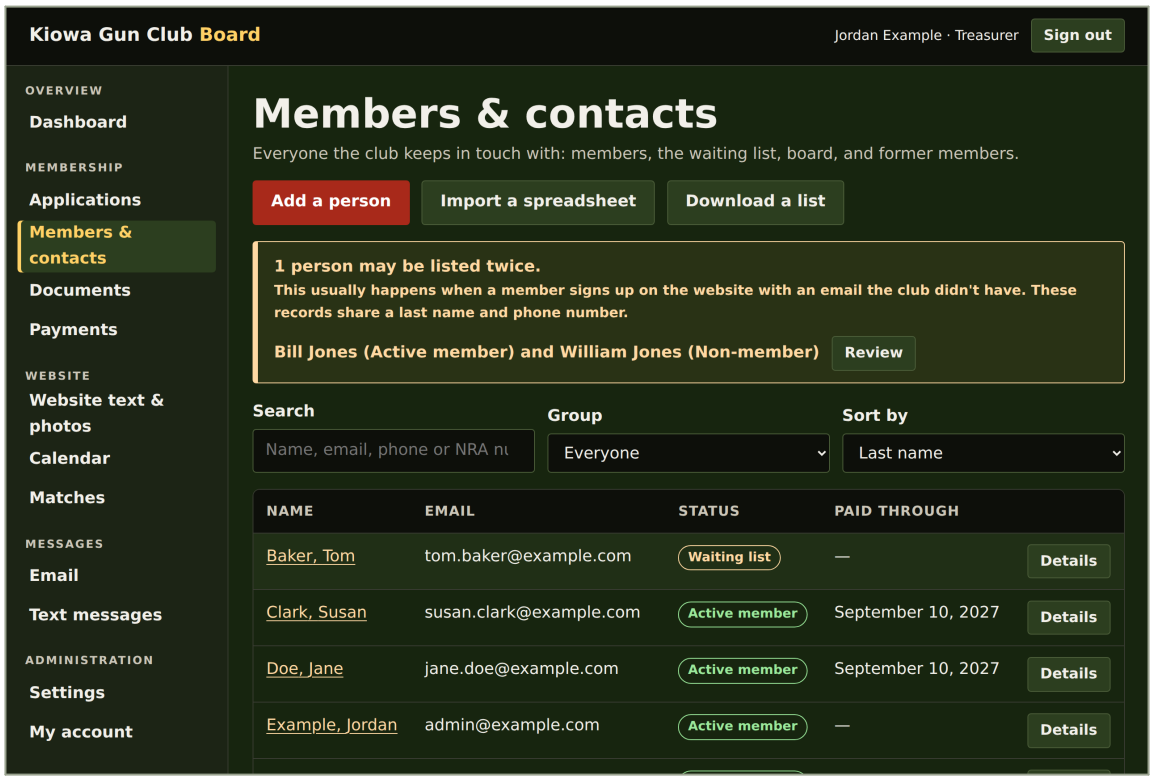

Use this when someone needs to be on the club's list and isn't yet: for example a new member who paid in person, or a contact the club wants to keep in touch with.

Before you add someone

Search for them first (see the guide Finding a member). If they're already on the list, update their record instead of adding a new one. Adding them twice causes the "listed twice" problem.

Adding one person

1 Sign in to the board website and click Members & contacts in the menu on the left. Then click the red Add a person button.

The Add a person button is at the top of the page.

Fill in the form:

- First name and Last name: first name in the first box, last name in the second.
- Email: needed so they can get club emails and sign in to the website.
- Phone: optional, but helpful.
- Status: pick Active member for a paid-up member. The other choices are explained in Updating a member.
- Dues paid through: optional. Leave it blank if you're not sure; it fills in by itself when they pay.

3 Click Add person. The window closes and they now appear in the list.

Sam Sample is now on the list.

4 To add their address, NRA details or anything else, click their name to open their record. See the guide Updating a member.

Good to know

- Members can also sign themselves up on the club website. You don't need to add people who do that.
- The Add a person form needs an email. If the person has no email, add them with Import a spreadsheet (below), using a spreadsheet with just their row.
- If you see a message that the email is already in use, that person is already on the list. Search for them instead.

Adding many people at once

If you have a list of people in Excel or Google Sheets, you can add them all at once.

5 On Members & contacts, click Import a spreadsheet and follow the three short steps in the window.

Good to know

- The club's own roster spreadsheet works as it is. Or use the example spreadsheet offered in the window.
- It must be saved as a CSV file. In Excel: File → Save As, then choose CSV.
- Anyone already on the list (same email) is skipped and left unchanged, so importing twice won't make copies.
- After importing, check the top of Members & contacts for a yellow "may be listed twice" box.
